MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Assistant/Executive Director

FROM: [redacted]

Chief, Arms Control Intelligence Staff

SUBJECT: PFIAB Issues [redacted]

1. I apologize greatly for being so late, but attached is a computer listing from OCR which deals with arms control issues. This listing is the nominal response to Fred Demech's question to us of at least a month ago. As you can tell, there is not much in this listing. My basic view, that the issue is not going to be productive, seems reinforced. [redacted]

2. Changing subjects, I want you to know that last Friday night I spent about forty-five minutes with Sy Weiss down at PFIAB laying out the basic ideas of the Red Team. As you know, PFIAB has been carping and screeching about the Red Team for months. The outline I used came from the memorandum to the DCI done by [redacted] about three weeks ago (in which the DCI concurred). After several mechanical questions were answered, such as--who gets the products?--Sy looked at me and said that he did not have any problems at all with such a Red Team. We are proceeding in the interagency process. [redacted]

Attachment:

P.S. It might be useful for the DCI to talk about the Red Team issue when he next gets together with PFIAB.
